WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1901.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

We want to enjoy the great day tomorrow, and we have never been known to say "we told you so!" but we would like an honest opinion from the kamaainas who annexed us, against the will and wish of the Hawaiians and their friends, whether they do not feel rather cheap and wish that they hadn't undertaken the job. We are simply trying to get information, and if Atherton, Baldwin, Irwin and the other roaring annexationists of 1893 will step forward and say that they are pleased, we shall put our pencil inside our left cheek and wink at them and say "Bah!"

We forget why the fourth of July is a holiday in the United States but we have always been known to observe the celebration of any day which was classed "a holiday."

The Fourth of July means sky rockets and any kind of fireworks which Kennedy may wish to burn in front of the Aloha Saloon. The day may also remind the said Kennedy of Scotland that the American workman will drink his beer when he chooses to do so and can pay for it, as long as he get fair wages. The Fourth of July is a great day in our country, (this new country), and we ought to feel happy and glad, because it is a holiday.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

Being all Americans now, THE INDEPENDENT will celebrate The Fourth by not issuing tomorrow.

Attorney Lennon who is now in durance vile, is one of the many who cannot understand the fact that Honolulu is not a jay town.

The prospects that the Senate and House will meet by committee and pass an appropriation bill are very encouraging. THE INDEPENDENT succeeded in getting an interview with Colonel Mizuma this morning and the Colonel's answer was "Nitsky."

According to a morning paper the Hopper residence on King street will be used by the Salvation Army as a Home for women. We endorse the movement, in fact we have for years endeavored to encourage the establishment of such a place. But we regret that the promoters are not practical people and that consequently the matter will collapse. Why do the reformers not consult the people who know something of these islands and the peculiarities of life here? The writer has visited Christania, Bergen, Trondhjem, and many other places in Norway, and has found there an ample field for the work which Miss Tyrholm is undertaking here. Why should Miss Tyrholm not be a patriot and stay at home and reform the Norwegians? Poor little Hawaii is grateful of course for her services here but we think that the reformer would have a broader field on "Storegade," Christania."

Better if He Had.

Coming home rather late one night, old Jones discovered a country yokel with a lantern standing by the kitchen door.

"Young man," said he, "what are you doing here?"

"I've come a courting, sur."

"A courting? What do you mean?"

"Well, I'm a follower of Mary, the kitched maid, sur."

"Do you usually carry a lantern when you are on such errands?" asked the old man sarcastically.

"Yes, sur, al'ays."

"Don't tell me such nonsense. You had better be off quickly—courting with a lantern, indeed. In my young days I never used such a thing."

"No, sur," replied the yokel, sliding off; "judging, by your missus, I shouldn't think yer d.d."—London King.

Nature And Art.

"I have heard actors talk on the Rialto," said the Talkative Critic, "and could understand them without difficulty. Then why is it that when these same persons get on the stage they have an enunciation that absolutely disguises the language?"

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Paul Neumann and her family wish to express their heartfelt thanks to the many friends who sent floral offerings and in other ways showed their sympathy at the death and funeral of the late Paul Neumann.

Crushed Violets.

The most startling soda fountain novelty of the season is "crushed violets." The syrup is manufactured under a patent by a Philadelphia firm, and when served up with the usual carbonic fizz makes a delicately flavored, sweetish drink, which is best described as tasting just as violets smell.

The secret of the flavor belongs to the manufacturer. It is not in any way derived from violets, that is quite certain. The violet, when crushed, gives forth none of that grateful perfume which is somehow manufactured within the veins of the plant and exhaled from the blossom. None of the odor of violets is obtained from the flowers.

A distillation of their juice gives an acrid compound of no pleasant odor. The perfume is all manufactured artificially, and orris root is its base. Probably orris root is the base also of the flavoring which enters into this new drink.
